CAPSULE BIOGRAPHY

TRAN Hoang Tu Linh is a lecturer at the Faculty of Commercial Law, Ho Chi Minh City University of Law—one of two leading law schools in Vietnam. She is listed as a commercial arbitrator with the Southern Trade Arbitration Centre (STAC). Linh completed her Master of Laws, Bachelor of Laws, and Bachelor of Arts (Political Science) at the University of Melbourne, Ho Chi Minh City University of Law, and the City University of New York, respectively. Linh has actively been working with international scholars in leading universities—such as Monash University and the University of Melbourne in Australia—in different projects related to international law, global governance, and dispute resolution. She is currently taking part in (1) a national level research project funded by the Vietnam’s National Foundation for Science and Technology Department, examining lessons from international experience in promoting Vietnam’s arbitration in the context of global economic integration; and (2) a university-level research project funded by Ho Chi Minh City University of Law focusing on third parties in commercial arbitration law. Her research interests include international commercial dispute resolution and contract law.
